REACH COMPLIANCE DECLARATION

Advanced Aluminium assures all of its customers that we are fully aware of the REACH regulations and have evaluated all of our products in respect of our responsibilities. We can assure our customers that we fully comply with the REACH requirements.

We can confirm that to the best of our knowledge there are no materials in our products which are liable to emit or migrate substances potentially dangerous to hygiene, health or the environment during normal intended use.

We will take all necessary action to provide notification to our customers if any changes occur within our products or any relevant changes are made to the regulations that will require further action.
